Use of the CD.

Users should note that the inclosed C.D. containing all the programs, data, simulation, and labs has been checked for compatibility with the Windows operating systems Millennium and XP. All work with no difficulty, provided the instructions are strictly followed.

Some students have had initial difficulties that were rectified by installing the latest patches to the operating systems from the web. In particular, those users with limited disc space using Windows ME may experience difficulties. Help can be obtained from:
